

Even though we live in the internet era, the vast numbers of Americans still get their news and understanding of events from TV, radio, and the paper. The alarming concentration of power of the broadcasting and publishing industries which has occurred over the last 25 years must stop, or our democracy will perish. Please do not reduce the limits on broadcast and publishing ownership, or else our current era will be remembered as the beginning of Orwell's nightmare come true.

thank you - sean branagan